CSM Paul B Huff Medal of Honor Memorial

Over the last couple of years, the 75th anniversaries of important dates have been observed. In 2016 the Association celebrated the 75th anniversary of the activation of what was initially designated the 504th Parachute Infantry Battalion, but would later be re-designated and finish the war as the 509th Parachute Infantry Battalion. Next year we will see the anniversaries of probably the most significant events of World War II for the Airborne in general and the 509th in particular. The invasions of Anzio, Southern France and the Battle of the Bulge will all mark 75 years.

One of the events to be recognized next year will be the 75th anniversary of the February 8th action, where then Corporal Paul Huff, received his Medal of Honor in the Anzio beachhead. Paul Huff was a native of Cleveland, Tennessee and joined the Army in June of 1941. He was one of the original Troopers of the 504th PIB, and served with the Battalion at Forts Benning and Bragg, and in England. Huff participated in both combat jumps in North Africa and Avellino. Following the Avellino operation he fought with the Battalion at Monte Croce, and participated in the amphibious invasion of Anzio. Cpl. Huff was the first Paratrooper to be awarded the Medal of Honor.

As mentioned above, February 8th, 2019 will mark 75 years since his Medal of Honor action near Carano, Italy. A memorial ceremony is being planned for Saturday, February 9th to commemorate this achievement. Paul Huff is buried in his hometown of Cleveland, Tennessee, and plans are to hold the ceremony at his gravesite. While it's still in the early stages for the ceremony, an honor guard, a laying of a wreath, and participation by the Huff family are all being planned for. As the date gets closer more details will be published in the newsletter and on Facebook.
